Police Pushing Full Probe Of Baby Head Case

Borough police and other authorities continued an intensive search today for clues in the gruesome mystery of the finding a baby's head against the screen at the sewage disposal plant Tuesday afternoon, but thus far without any announced success.

The examination of the head, believed to be that of a full-term infant one or two days old, was completed Wednesday at the Warner hospital by Dr. C. H. Johnson, pathologist. Photographs were also taken.

A check-up of physicians' records was begun Wednesday.

Thus far only the head of the infant has been found, but a close watch was being maintained at the disposal plant for the torso. The head apparently had been severed from the body with a knife or other sharp instrument, and there was a gash across the eyes and bridge of the nose, police said.

GIVES $500 FOR AMBULANCE

The Adams county commissioners Wednesday authorized a $500 contribution toward purchase of a new ambulance for the Warner hospital.

Members of the board, in voting for the donation, said that an ambulance is one thing that "truly can be called a benefit to everyone in the county."

Some time ago another board of commissioners donated toward purchase of the present ambulance. Commissioners said "the money then was well spent. The donation toward a new ambulance to replace the present one will make sure that ambulance service can continue uninterrupted."

C. A. Bixler, president of the hospital board, met with the commissioners several weeks ago to outline the need for a replacement for the present ambulance. The donation was made as a result of that meeting.

President Bixler today pointed out that at least $3,500 additional will be needed to secure a new vehicle replacing the present one. Pointing out that it has been in service for over ten years, Bixler added that the present ambulance "like any other vehicle that has been constant use for ten years is beginning to show its age."

Those who may wish to donate toward purchase of the ambulance are urged to make their contributions to the Board of Directors, Warner hospital, Gettysburg.

Dr. Hale, in line with the serious consideration by the group in organizing a local advisory health council to cooperate with the county organization, explained the responsibilities of such a council. He outlined four primary responsibilities as follows: To study the reports of the medical and dental examiners and obtain a general picture of the problems of correction; to inform the community of the results of these findings; to organize an educational program for adults, stressing the parental responsibilities for making necessary corrections, and, to receive reports from the school nurses who have made analyses of the reports of the school examiners.

In Committee's Hands

The project was left in the hands of the project committee headed by Mrs. Nevin R. Frantz for further consideration.

Dr. Hale's address was followed by a brief talk by Lewis Bosserman, principal of the Arendtsville unit, who told of the pre-school mental clinic, its value to the school authorities and parents, and the results of such a clinic.

HOMEMAKERS HEAR TALK BY REV. N. E. SMITH

The great duty of American homes is to produce people who can get along with other humans, the Rev. Nevin E. Smith, pastor of Emmanuel church, Hanover, declared Wednesday afternoon at the annual Spring Homemakers Day held at St. James Lutheran church.

Approximately 130 women from throughout the county, all members of home economics clubs, attended the session held under sponsorship of the county agricultural extension association.

"Today our homes are producing polished individuals who have the 'new look,'" the Rev. Mr. Smith declared, "but we must go further than that. We must train our youth in human relations. The army proved that in a short time it could train young men to kill; the homes should do as good a job in training young men and women to serve the cause of peace, good will and friendship."

Made Much Progress

"We have progressed greatly in many ways over the past quarter century. Where once the farmer seemed out of place in the city, and the farm homes were less comfortable than city dwellings, today the farmer is likely to be a graduate of some great university, his home is as comfortable, if not more comfortable than that of the city dweller. He has all conveniences possible, he drives a car and wears good clothes. He moves easily in all levels of society. Once it was the son who had the least intelligence who remained on the farm. Today our best young men and women choose farming as a way of life.

"Modern machinery has made possible speed in farming that once was

1100 WOMEN AT FIRST COOKING SCHOOL PARTY

"It may still be chicken, but it's chicken with the new look!"

This was the way Mrs. Nancy Rowe, food and homemaking authority, described her barbecued fried chicken at the opening session of The Gettysburg Times cooking school in the Hotel Gettysburg annex Wednesday night.

It was "the new look" which she featured in her lecture, and it was "the new look" which she stressed for all the family meals, a "look" which is easy on the family budget in the midst of high food prices.

Approximately 1,100 women, plus a few male cooks who dabble about in the kitchen more or less frequently, jammed the annex for the opening session of what, it is indicated, will be the most successful of the many cooking schools sponsored by The Gettysburg Times.

Attractive Decorations

The large and enthusiastic gathering which began streaming into the annex shortly after 6 o'clock, did its first exclaiming over the bower of beauty created by the Harrisburg firm which decorated the auditorium for the occasion.

Large colored globes, lighted from within, were suspended from the high ceiling; festoons of flowers were draped from hanging baskets and climbed on lattice work.

The stage itself was gleaming white with the very latest in kitchen equipment, laundry aids, kitchen and dining room furniture, a radio which furnished music before the school opened and during intermission, and a flash of color here and there from other exhibits by cooperating merchants.

"May we have some of the valuable space of your fine newspaper to inform the patrons of the Gettysburg post office of the various changes made in the service in recent weeks and also the reasons why we do not fall in line in going on Daylight Saving Time."

"An article published in The Gettysburg Times of April 23, 1948, asked why the post office cannot go on Daylight Saving Time? ## STASSEN WOOS JERSEY VOTES

Trenton, N. J., April 29 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen, with an enthusiastic welcome to New Jersey behind him, turned today to wooing the state's 35 votes in the Republican National convention.

More than 5,000 persons, most of them students, turned out last night at Princeton university to cheer the former Minnesota governor. It was his first major speech in New Jersey in his quest for the Republican Presidential nomination.

Today he was to meet for an off-the-record talk with delegates and party leaders at a luncheon at the Hotel Stacy Trent.

Speaking to a chilled but enthusiastic gathering on the Princeton campus, Stassen hit back at Sen. Robert A. Taft for criticizing his long, intense campaign, called for a system of selective service that would permit students to complete their education, and devoted nearly an hour to answering a barrage of questions from his student audience.

He spoke from the steps leading up to Blair arch, the court below resembling a natural amphitheater. Leighton Laughlin, president of Princeton chapter, Students for Stassen, and Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-N. J.) estimated the crowd at more than 5,000. Republican State Chairman Lloyd B. Marsh said it was closer to 10,000.

No Snakes, No Goats, Not Even Any Opium

Tsingtao, China, April 29 (AP)—U. S. Marine officers, like American officers everywhere, hung up some catchy names over their bachelor quarters.

Chinese officials puzzled over the ways of the Occident. There was a sign saying "The Snake Pit," but there was no snakes inside. Nor were there goats in "The Goat's Nest."

But the Chinese balked when they saw "The Opium Den," even though there was no opium inside either. They thought it a little too suggestive of vice.

So now it's just "The Den," no snakes, goats, opium—no nothing.

This southern Indiana town has no park yet, but readers have already filled the newspaper's back yard with donations for a wildlife exhibit for the park. Now the editorial voice is amplified by those of a fox, three goats and white mice.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sir:

It was noted with interest the triumph of progress in the square. Mr. Scharf, your local boniface, should really not be congratulated for the success of his stratagem in removing the final vestiges of the once beautiful grouping of shade trees that, together with the fine old 19th century houses gave your town some distinction. After all a whole generation of vandals preceded him. One lone tree more or less does not matter.

One wonders if Gettysburgians have never travelled beyond the confines of their own, delightful nest to see what other communities have done in the way of preserving the natural beauties. The quiet greens of the New England village, shaded by century old elms and oaks and maples, are found to be worthy of note even in this age of commercialism. Such an atmosphere . . . mark this well, citizens of Gettysburg! . . . even attracts tourists.

Not just the cheap tipper purchasing a packet of post cards but the well upholstered traveler with a well lined purse. Think of it! Just the preservation of the splendors of a finer age can bring the public to your door. In Williamsburg the past had to be disintegrated and restored at fabulous cost, in New England it was merely preserved. In both instances it proved an asset meaning money in the coffers of those whole held these precious heritages of the American people.

Up one street and down another the pillage and waste has gone on. Wrecking and ruining the fine examples of early provincial architecture with which this little town abounded, and of course tearing out the trees as they came. Now that Mr. Scharf's tree is down you can start from scratch and in a few years another generation will be feverishly replanting and restoring former dignity and beauty. For it takes more than neon signs and souvenir shops to attract a public improving yearly in taste.

Sincerely yours,

D. Q. Cervantes

BLACK MARKET BEEF

Penafiel, Portugal, April 29 (AP)—

Curious when the family of a man suspected of illicit slaughtering of cattle refused to rise from their beds when the police called, the anti-black market squad took strong measures to force them out. Under the mattresses and in the pillows were hidden legs of beef and shoulders of mutton, cutlets and steaks. Even the grandfather clock was full of meat.

Pausing long enough to pick up the pocketbook, Mrs. Bell continued her pursuit. Gable and Patrolman Joseph Sanquilli came into the picture just as Mrs. Bell was closing fast on her quarry.

The man was taken into custody, Gable said, as Mrs. Bell, carrying her purse, returned to church. The purse, she told Gable, contained $5.

Purse Snatcher Caught By Woman

Philadelphia, April 29 (AP)—When a man snatched the purse of Mrs. Betty M. Bell as she was entering a church last night, she refused to resort to the pardonable female reaction of fainting.

Instead, Patrolman Coleman Gable said, Mrs. Bell started after the thief, shouting for help as she ran. As the chase moved down a central city street, the thief dropped Mrs. Bell's purse.

Pausing long enough to pick up the pocketbook, Mrs. Bell continued her pursuit. Gable and Patrolman Joseph Sanquilli came into the picture just as Mrs. Bell was closing fast on her quarry.

The man was taken into custody, Gable said, as Mrs. Bell, carrying her purse, returned to church. The purse, she told Gable, contained $5.

TRACE WOMAN'S CLUB HISTORY BACK TO DICKENS

Washington, April 29 (AP)—Charles Dickens is called the father of the woman's club movement in the United States. This is why:

Early in 1868 the Press club of New York gave a dinner honoring Dickens. Mrs. J. C. Croly, Alice and Phoebe Carey and other newspaper-women seeking admittance were told that no women were wanted. So Mrs. Croly, in March 1868, organized a club of her own—composed entirely of women.

This was the Sorosis club. It is now described as "mother" of the General Federation of Women's clubs, which today represents a membership of some 3,000,000 women in this country and abroad. Several thousands of these members will meet in convention at Portland, Ore., the latter part of May.

Ambitious Program
Mrs. J. L. Blair Buck, president of the General Federation, announces an ambitious convention program. The women will vote on a resolution urging the government to ratify promptly the International Bill of Human Rights.

Another resolution will urge the U. S. delegation to UN to press for prompt establishment by the Security Council of an International Police Force. There will be a resolution asking the General Federation to continue to "encourage sobriety and temperance." Holding that the consumption of alcoholic beverages in the United States has reached "alarming proportions," the proposed resolution would deplore:

"1. The promotion of drinking through increasingly intensive national advertising by radio, newspaper and magazine, and

2. Inclusion in motion pictures of drinking scenes which do not further the plot of the story."

The General Federation says there are approximately 40,000,000 persons who live in areas in this country where no public health units are established. Adequate health services for all the citizenry will be urged. Other resolutions on the agenda call for immediate reform of the Office of Indian Affairs, support of immediate nation-wide action to safeguard the nation's forest resources and public grazing lands, and urge appointment of qualified women to responsible positions in the government.

Another resolution calls for renewal of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, which expires in June, and endorses the International Trade Organization, asking for Congressional authorization for United States' participation therein. The Federation is also expected to protest the current "undesirable" trend in literature and to call upon book publishers and authors to assist in elevating the writing of the times.

"Current literature frequently offends the good taste and sensibilities of the average reader and tends to lower the moral standards and literary appreciation of our youth," says Mrs. John M. Pierce, chairman of the Federation's Fine Arts Department.

Alert Police For Women Bandits

Camden, N. J., April 29 (AP)—New Jersey state police were alerted today for something new in the way of bandits—a pair of stylishly dressed women.

State police of the Berlin barracks said Mrs. Anna Walker of nearby Kettle Run reported two women drove up to her farm home yesterday and announced they were selling stockings. After she had invited the pair into the house, Mrs. Walker told police, one of the women said: "I know you love your children and I want your money. Give us your money or we'll harm your children."

Afraid that some harm might befall her own two children and a third child visiting the Walker home, Mrs. Walker told police she obtained $70 from a bedroom and gave it to the two female bandits, who then fled in their car.

—Rep. Gross—voted "No." Two, Kearns and Gillette, paired for and against the bill, respectively.

BANDS FURNISH ACCURATE DATA ON MANY BIRDS

Washington, April 29 (AP)—Where the chimney swift made its winter home was a puzzling bird mystery for many years. It is a common bird in eastern North America in the summer.

The mystery was solved by marking the birds with numbered bands. There was great excitement in the bird-banding office on May 1, 1944 when the American embassy at Lima, Peru, reported 13 bands had been received from Indians. Records showed they originally had been placed on chimney swifts.

The banded birds had been killed by the Indians on the River Yanayaco, which forms the boundary between Peru and Colombia.

Bird-banding is considered one of the most important methods of getting accurate information on living birds today. The Fish and Wildlife Service says the number of banded birds reported in the past 28 years totals more than 5,200,000. Of this number more than 375,000 returns, or recovery records, have been reported.

All kinds of native birds are studied by the banding method. Migratory waterfowl have been banded in large numbers at more than 150 stations and have been recovered as far south as the northern part of South America. Small song birds have been banded in still greater numbers, and many interesting facts concerning their movements are being discovered.

Important Studies
Important scientific studies of population, sex ratio, survival, temperature control, weight changes, plumage, bird psychology, homing instinct and many other subjects have been and are being made by bird-banding.

The Fish and Wildlife Service issues federal permits to unpaid volunteer operators, who do most of the actual banding. There are two kinds of permits. One permits the trapping, for banding purposes, of migratory non-game species. The other covers all migratory game.

Every banding station must in effect be a sanctuary. The service supplies the bands which come in 11 sizes and are pure aluminum. It provides directions, for banding and for trapping. It does not provide traps or other station equipment, but it does supply its cooperators with specifications that may be followed by persons only moderately skilled in the use of tools.

Preserve Band
If you find a banded bird dead, the band should be mailed at once to the Fish and Wildlife Service, Washington 25, D. C. This should be accompanied by information concerning the exact date and place of recovery, how the bird was obtained, and the name and address of the finder.

If the bird is still alive, the complete band number should be carefully recorded and the bird released without removing the band.

The service tries to inform each correspondent on the species he re-

REPORT NICOLA WILL ACCEPT

Rome, April 29 (AP)—Premier Alcide De Gasperi began laying the groundwork today for the first government of the new Italian Republic. He will head it, as premier, barring unforeseen upsets.

The Christian Democrat leader passed up a visit to Milan's 26th international fair to talk with provisional President Enrico De Nicola.

Government sources said formation of a new cabinet must begin with Nicola's decision to accept or refuse the presidency of the Republic. The new Italian parliament meets May 8. In a joint session May 10 it will elect a president.

While there is no official information on De Nicola's plans, Naples sources close to the 70-year-old ports. However, scores of people submit incorrect transcriptions of band numbers and others forget to give their mailing addresses.

Color Blindness Called Permanent

New York, April 29 (AP)—A Navy study warns persons who were born color blind not to waste their money on so-called cures.

After 75 years of experiments, "no type of treatment or training has proved to be of real value," says Lt. Cmdr. Dean Farnsworth in the Sight-Saving Review. The review is published by the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

There are at least 6,000,000 males in the United States who are completely or partially color blind, Farnsworth said, and a smaller number of women.

The Navy, which uses many kinds of colored signals, had to reject any color blind man. So the Navy was president said he had decided to accept the office.

De Gasperi's present cabinet — his fourth under the provisional administration — will hold its last session May 4. Ministers then will submit their resignations pending formation of the new government.

keenly interested in whether the color-blindness can be corrected. Numerous kinds of treatment or training have been advertised or attempted.

Farnsworth said a survey showed that the best authorities on color vision emphatically believe that persons born with color blindness cannot be cured "by the use of diet, medicine, training, or other treatment now known to science."

MORE WHEAT STORED

Harrisburg, April 29 (AP)—Storage supplies of wheat in Pennsylvania on April 1 were well over 2,000,000 bushels greater than a year ago, the state Agriculture department reported today. The department said a federal-state survey showed a total of 6,913 bushels on hand April 1 compared with 4,570,000 bushels a year previous.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and
The Gettysburg Times

TWENTY YEARS AGO

New Bell Exchange Is Inaugurated
Saturday Night: A series of scarcely audible clicks, as the dead plugs were yanked from the sockets on the new switchboard of the Bell Telephone exchange in the First National bank building, put in service the new five plug panel common battery board and automatically put the old service board out of commission Saturday evening. The cut over was accomplished in less than thirty seconds.

Miss Carrie Codori, chief operator, and Miss Marie Codori were the two operators at the new switchboard when the cut over was made while Miss Marie Wassem and Miss Maude Whiteleather were in the old office. Miss Beatie Linsey, chief operator at Carlisle, was over.

Burgess C. A. Heiges put in a call for Mayor Jacob Weaver, of York. The chief executives of the two towns exchanged greetings and Mayor Weaver congratulated Burgess Heiges on the latest improvement which Gettysburg has fallen heir to.

Dr. and Mrs. O'Neal Mark Golden Wedding: Dr. and Mrs. Walter H. O'Neal quietly observed the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding at their home on Baltimore street on Monday.

County Couple Wed at Littlestown: Maurice Zinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Zinn, near Bittingers, and Miss Bertha L. Leese, Hampton, were united in marriage Saturday evening at 8 o'clock by the Rev. Dr. F. S. Lindaman, at his residence in Littlestown.

Sells Store Property: J. Emory Cleveland sold his property, corner Liberty and Hanover streets, to Claude M. Sherman, who conducts a grocery store in the building. The transfer was made by C. A. Williams, Hanover street.

Bennett Buried with Honors as Nation Mourns: Washington, April 28 — Honors reserved for those who achieve high place in service under the flag were bestowed in the name of the American people yesterday on Floyd Bennett, naval aviator, who shared with Byrd the first air flight to the North Pole.

First American to die of the gallant fellowship of adventurers of the skies who have written their names in world history during the swift years just over, Bennett was laid to his long sleep deep in a rain-drenched, steep-sloping hillside of Arlington cemetery that looks out toward the north and the icy barriers that guard the pole.

Just a week ago he set out to carry relief to German and Irish comrades of the air fraternity, stranded with a crippled ship after they had succeeded in spanning the Atlantic from East to West. Death came to him through exposure on that rescue trip.

For this young knight of the new chivalry of the air, although humble his rank, full military honors were accorded.

The first flowers to be set in place were those from President and Mrs. Coolidge.

Magazine Carries Story About Shaw: An interesting story about Oscar Shaw, musical comedy star, now appearing in "The Five O'clock Girl," in New York is contained in the current issue of Collier's. The article, entitled "The Five O'clock Boy," attributes Mr. Shaw's success to his attractive personality and to his wife, the former Miss Louise Giveler, of Gettysburg.

Lockhart Dies in Racer Crash: Daytona Beach, Fla., April 25 (AP) — Frank Lockhart, noted automobile racer, was killed almost instantly here today when he lost control of his machine while racing down the beach at more than 200 miles an hour.

Collect Funds to Aid Children: A campaign to raise the Adams county quota of $50 for the aid of crippled children throughout the state will be started within a short time. John Spangler, chairman of the crippled children's committee of the Rotary club, announced on Friday.

Today's Talk

POPULARITY

What a price has to be paid for mere popularity—that elusive, elusive objective that can take wing in a single night! Stevenson called it "that empty and ugly thing." What a multitude of humans are being constantly lifted to the tip of some wave of popularity, only to be buried when that wave takes its turn.

Where are the popular folk of yesterday? Where are the popular books—the "first sellers?" Lord Byron was one of the most popular poets of his day. He was lionized as few men ever have been in the literary field. But who reads him today? It was said of him at the time that he "awoke to find himself famous." Should he awake from his long sleep today he would find himself forgotten.

We may well beware of popularity. It has a cute smile but a short memory. I recall hearing William Jennings Bryan tell a great audience that if all those who so enthusiastically praised and applauded him had voted for him, he would have been elected President of the United States. It takes character to handle popularity just the same as it takes character to handle great wealth that may have suddenly thrust itself upon one. Or, even unexpected success.

Many of the world's classics were failures when first published. Second editions were few and far between. But what became of the popular books of their day—the ones about which the critics shouted from the housetops? Inquire about them. Even their graves are unknown. Why have we no intimate stories of the youth and life of Shakespeare by his contemporaries? Yet how deathless his fame!

What a multitude of writers would welcome, not the popularity, but the appreciation, for their books today, which was deprived to them in life. Why are we so neglectful and so indifferent toward the really worthwhile things, and so talkative and loud shouting about those things that are so much of the moment?

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Tie To The Old."

Just Folks

THE FIRST LETTER

When I was but a little lad I'd see the postman call
And watch my mother take the mail, with none for children small.
I wondered as she read them through how old I'd have to be Before among the letters she'd discover one for me.
And then one day the first one came—a letter all my own—
Though much has happened down the years, no sweeter thrill I've known.

Importance rides with little things, especially with a boy.
The first of almost everything is tinged with pride and joy.
The first watch is a brighter one than all he later buys.
The first red sled and bicycle he'll view with glistening eyes;
But on his face I'm sure will be the widest, proudest grin,
When that first letter with his name the postman passes in.

The years have swiftly come and gone since I was wondering when
A letter meant for me alone someone would think to pen.
Today the mail keeps piling up from friends afar and near,
And some I read with eyes aglow and some with sigh and tear.
But now, whatever word may come, the thrill is not the same,
As that I knew when I was young and that first letter came.

Reorganize New Court League: Guile W. Lefever, principal of the Gettysburg high school, was elected secretary of the newly organized Central Pennsylvania Basketball league at Harrisburg Thursday evening. The new league is an outgrowth of the former combination, which was dissolved at the meeting. In place of having nine teams, the new organization is at present composed of six high schools.

The roster of the new organization is composed of Lancaster, Steelton, William Penn, John Harris, Lebanon and Gettysburg, all of which are in District 3.

Hosts to Seniors: Members of the faculty at Gettysburg Theological seminary were hosts to the members of the senior class of the seminary at a dinner at the Blue Parrot tea room Thursday evening. Dr. R. T. Stamm presided as toastmaster.

Personal Mention: Miss Carrie Codori, Miss Mary Ramer, Mrs. Fred Faber, Mrs. Charles Myers, Mrs. Edward Swisher and Miss Mable Grenoble went to Baltimore Wednesday to see the performance of "The Red Robe."

SITUATION IN PALESTINE IS CALLED "GRIM"

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The gravity of the Palestine situation is emphasized by Britain's emphatic reaffirmation, delivered in Foreign Secretary Bevin's blunt language, that she is determined to withdraw from the Holy Land officially by May 15.

That smashes any hopes still held in United Nations circles that England might be persuaded to continue sitting on the lid. Some of the more optimistic have kept in mind that last October Britain said she would be prepared, under certain conditions, to continue administration of Palestine until independence was achieved if the Jews and Arabs settled their differences. However, Secretary Bevin himself referred to this in his statement to the House of Commons and added:

Prepare for Battle
"But there has been no agreement between the Jews and the Arabs and, moreover, withdrawal of British administrative personnel has begun and is proceeding rapidly and we cannot reverse the process at this late hour."

Thus the position is grim, since Arabs and Jews are deploying their troops for battle which seemingly must eventuate unless there is armed intervention from outside, or unless a truce can be arranged. The time between now and May 15 is regarded in U.N. quarters as too short for the movement of suitable forces to the Middle East to prevent war. Therefore the peace organization has been concentrating on a truce.

Certainly the time is short between now and May 15, but one wonders whether, after all, it really is too short to provide a force to keep the peace. There surely would be time to move aircraft carriers, with fighter planes and light bombers, and they would constitute a mighty persuasive force, lying off the coast of Palestine. Should such an operation be undertaken under the auspices of the U.N., it presumably would involve the United States and Britain, as the major operators of flat-tops.

Truce Is Hope
If that isn't feasible, then apparently the remaining hope must rest in the truce for which the U.N. is pressing. Indeed, a truce would be by far the better solution, since out of that might grow a permanent settlement.

Pending the outcome of the negotiations the world at large will get vast satisfaction from the agreement reached by Arab and Jewish representatives to the U.N., to make the walled section of Jerusalem an open city. If this is approved by the warring forces in Palestine it will mean that this ancient portion of the Holy City of three great religions—Christianity, Judaism and Mohammedanism—will be preserved for posterity.

Better yet, let the whole of Jerusalem be declared an open city, under control of a token force provided by the U.N., and let the blue flag of the peace organization fly from the highest pinnacle.

Ousted Leader To Address Convention

Atlantic City, N. J., April 29 (AP) — The CIO Textile workers plan to give their convention floor today to Hyman Gurinsky, who was ousted recently as president of Paterson, N. J., local 75 on charges of Communist activity.

In a move unprecedented in the union's nine-year history, Emil Rieve, president of the Textile workers, said rules will be suspended to give Gurinsky an opportunity to deny the charges and tell his side of the case to some 2,000 delegates. Gurinsky, still a union member, is not a delegate to the convention. CIO President Philip Murray told the convention yesterday he is opposed to the third party. Emil Rieve, textile union president, told the delegates Wallace is "a tool of the Communists."

Mrs. Bader told the opening session yesterday of a two-day conference of the women's council that such scenes "tend to instill in young people a false conception of the values of life."

From drinking scenes in motion pictures, young people get the idea they are not socially acceptable unless they drink, she said, and added that from lavish movie settings, they develop the idea that they can't be happy in life unless they have several cars and homes.

DEATH IN THE JUNGLE
Kuala Lumpur, Malaya, April 29 (AP) — Man-eating tigers and other wild animals killed an average of four persons a month in Malaya last year, says the Malayan Federation government.

British Copying 'Kittyhawk' Biplane
London, April 29 (AP) — The British will place a replica of the historic Wright brothers' biplane "Kittyhawk" in their science museum when the original goes home. The replica is being built by students at the De-havilland technical school.

Under the will of Orville Wright the "Kittyhawk," which made the first powered flight with a man aboard in 1903, soon will be returned to the United States.

He sent the craft to England after a long dispute with the Smithsonian institution in Washington, D. C. The Smithsonian had credited the Langley "aerodrome," which was wrecked in a launching a few days before the Wrights flew their plane, with being the first capable of powered flight with a pilot.

Canada is almost as broad as it is long, being 3,600 air miles east to west and nearly 3,000 north to south. Worry aggravates diseased hearts, but does not weaken sound ones.

WOMEN STUDY MOVIE POLICING
Harrisburg, April 29 (AP) — A recommendation urging policing of motion pictures by the churches was studied today by the Pennsylvania Council of Church Women. The recommendation was made by Mrs. Jesse M. Bader, national chairman of the Protestant Motion Picture Council.

Mrs. Bader urged that churches appoint a motion picture chairman who would work with the local theater manager to bring better films into the community.

At the same time, the church woman condemned all movies which contain excessive drinking scenes and which place importance on wealth.

Mrs. Bader told the opening session yesterday of a two-day conference of the women's council that such scenes "tend to instill in young people a false conception of the values of life."

From drinking scenes in motion pictures, young people get the idea they are not socially acceptable unless they drink, she said, and added that from lavish movie settings, they develop the idea that they can't be happy in life unless they have several cars and homes.

DIVES PLANE TO BLOW OUT FIRE
Cleveland, April 29 (AP) — A quick-thinking pilot, flying an American Airlines transport plane carrying 48 passengers, dived his ship 3,000 feet yesterday to blow out an engine fire.

The ship, a DC-6 piloted by Capt. E. S. Swanson, was over Toledo at 21,000 feet altitude at the time. It continued to the airport here on its remaining three engines.

Passengers, watching as flames shot out of the engine and trailed back across the wing, remained in their seats.

All available fire apparatus at the airport followed the plane as it landed and poured 200 pounds of carbon dioxide fire extinguisher on the engine and damaged right wing.

Capt. Swanson said a broken propeller blade in the engine's supercharger caused the fire when it flew off its hub and ripped through the housing. This allowed oil to come in contact with the hot exhaust collector ring.

After the dive, the stewardesses offered all hands an extra cup of coffee, then resumed serving dinner.

VISITORS TO CAPITAL POSE MANY QUERIES

By JANE LADS

Washington, April 29 (AP)—Miss Lillian Middleton has most of the answers to questions asked by tourists who find their way to the Greater National Capital Committee's Information center. She gets as many as 1,500 queries a week. Most people want to know how to get in to see the Senate or the House of Representatives in session. That's easy. There are galleries on both sides of the Capital open to the public.

But some folks want to see Spencer, a famed three-foot sturgeon who died at least 10 years ago in the Department of Commerce Aquarium. Or they want to know how they can hear the footsteps of a ghost supposed to haunt the Capital. The other day a man from Florida fussed and fumed for more than an hour trying to get a "high class room" in this over-crowded city for $1.

All In One Day

Some visitors blow into town at 9 a. m. and want to see all of Washington before they leave on an 8:30 train that night. "I sternly disapprove of this," Mrs. Middleton says. "You can't do a town of this spectacular nature without spending two weeks or a month here. It's too brain-fatiguing." She suggests that the hasty visitor take in the 20-minute White House tour between 10 a. m. and 12, the Congressional Library, the Smithsonian Institution, the National Gallery, the Lincoln and Washington Memorials, the Federal

Publishes Sixth Book At 80 Years

Washington, April 29 (AP)—Miss Edith Hamilton, who for 26 years was head mistress at Bryn Mawr college, at 80 has just published her sixth book and is planning to write another one. Slight, silver-haired Miss Hamilton embarked on her writing career at the age of 62. Her translation of Agamemnon was presented the other night here by the George Washington University play-

Bureau of Investigation and the Capitol building.

She even gets calls from out of town from people planning trips to the Capital. A lady phoned the other day and wanted the committee to hold off the blossoming of the cherry trees until she could get here.

Currently, outside of the cherry blossoms and the exhibit of German paintings at the National Gallery (which the other day attracted 62,983 eyes, but pink skin, unlike the Commerce Department Aquarium are pulling in the biggest mobs. The catfish, which come from Virginia, vie for popularity with a two-headed diamond back terrapin from Maryland which has been making the headlines in the local papers the past few weeks.

The catfish not only have pink just like the other catfish and like usual catfish which have black eyes and black skin. John C. Pearson, director of the aquarium, says he thinks they are the only pink-eyed catfish on exhibit. He says they act just like the other catfish and like meatballs "without spaghetti" for their meals. Incidentally, Mr. Pearson says he thinks the two-headed turtle got too much publicity, he says the turtle is so "busy" answering questions he doesn't have time to think with even one of his two heads.

ers. Her latest book is entitled "Wit-ness to Truth." Her father, she says, was a wealthy gentleman of leisure, which he devoted to scholarship. "He was a rigid teacher," she says. "He gave me lessons in Latin for six weeks — then expected me to read Caesar fluently. I was seven years old at the time."

Miss Hamilton speaks and reads six languages, not counting English, over which she has supreme mastery. She has traveled everywhere except South America and Russia.

Total income for the United States rose from $76 billion in 1940 to about $169 billion in 1945.

Albany Captures Eastern Opener

(By The Associated Press)
Russ Needham, the flag-favored Albany Senators' veteran right-hander, turned on the only heat as 15,016 chilled fans turned out for the opening of the Eastern Baseball league's 26th campaign.

Needham pitched a five-hit, 7-0 shutout last night at Hartford to send Merrill May's Senators off winging toward what they hope will be Albany's first pennant since 1942.

The largest gathering, 4,683 at Binghamton, saw the 1947 cellar club edge the champion Utica Blue Sox, 9-6, despite a six-run fourth inning by the Sox.

The Elmira Pioneers came from behind to seize a 6-5 decision before 2,616 at Williamsport. The Scranton Red Sox coasted to a 6-2 win seen by 3,820 at Wilkes-Barre.

Carlisle Hi Track Team Here Friday

Gettysburg high school's track team will attempt to bring back into its winning stride Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock when Carlisle high will be met here in a dual meet.

The Maroons dropped their first meet in three years last week when they lost to the Mercersburg academy Jayvees at Mercersburg.

Coaches George Forney and Fred Haehnle are expecting stiff opposition from Carlisle. The Cumberland countians defeated Chambersburg 77-44 in a meet at Carlisle Tuesday.

Green Bay, Wis., April 29 (AP)—The honeymoon between professional football players and high salaries is over, says E. L. At Sherman, star quarterback for the Philadelphia Eagles professional football team of the National league, is assisting in coaching the Gettysburg college griders this week as the Bullets finish their four-week spring training schedule. Sherman is concentrating on the quarterbacks in the handling of the ball as required by the T-formation which the Bullets will use in a modified style next season.

CROWDS FLOCK TO DERBYTOWN

Louisville, April 29 (AP)—A lot of things besides cows were popping in Derbytown today along with the first "big push" of incoming tourists for Saturday's Kentucky Derby, but you couldn't cross the street without picking up either "Citation" or "Coalition" on the ear drums.

These big guns of the fabulous Calumet farm racing establishment have just about got themselves an exclusive match race in the eyes of most observers at this sprawling Derby capital. At least it won't be a walkover.

While incoming regular trains and buses were supplemented by specials from all points on the compass, the major topic of conversation was which of Warren Wright's stars would cost the big money in the Derby's $100,000 stake—not to mention a $5,000 gold cup and the horseshoe blanket of roses that goes to the "champ."

At the moment it looks as though six three-year-olds will go postward around 4:30 p. m. (CST). In addition to the Calumet pair, they are Ben Whitaker's My Request, William L. Braun's Escadr, Mrs. John Payson Adams' Grandpere, and R. W. McIlvaine's Billings.

Haverford Blanks
Bullet Courtmen

Doubles — Crollis and Mater defeated Grisby and Miller, 6-0, 6-0; D. Betson and Foster defeated Copeland and Hushon, 6-1, 6-1; B. Betson and Schmaers won by default.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, April 29 (AP)—You'd hardly recognize the Phillies of today as the same club you saw in Florida early in March. . . . not only have 20 names been lopped off their original roster and a half dozen added, but right now they have only one shortstop in action instead of five or six. . . . the other and more important one, Eddie Miller, is due to return when the Phils start west next week, and Ben Chapman still is high on young Granville Hamner. . . . another youngster they like very much is speedy, two-headed Richie Ashburn, whose favorite stunt seems to be teasing opposing pitchers into trying to trap him off first base then streaking to third when they finally throw wild. . . . "Of course," adds publicity director Babe Alexander, "we have a lot of other kids we could bring up if the ones we have don't come through, but we'd rather let them stay in the minors until they're ready. When Herb Pinnock was alive he always maintained he would have been a better pitcher if he hadn't come into the big leagues so young."

DIRTY DIG DEPT.
Alfred Vanderbilt, watching his horse, Moss Cock, fade out of the money at Jamaica: "He has early speed, that's all; just like the Giants." (Al is a Dodger fan, of course.)

Joe Palmer, airing the preliminaries to the derby trial: "The horses are better looking than the photographers, but they're badly outnumbered."

Slaughter, Drought Cut Game In Africa

Pretoria, South Africa, April 29 (AP)—Heavy slaughter of game and large drought losses are likely to bring cancellation of the 1948 open season in the Transvaal.

Dr. T. G. Nel, conservator of game, reports large numbers of animals are wandering from game preserves because of the drought. On unprotected areas they are slaughtered by hunters and the meat frequently is sold commercially. In addition the drought has so weakened many of the animals that they are being pulled down by wild hogs, hyenas and other animals.

A survey of the situation indicates losses among young animals are particularly severe.

STOPPING TRAFFIC
Akron, April 29 (AP)—Four way stop signs are being tried at some Akron intersections. Traffic Captain E. L. Engelhart hopes that stopping traffic going both ways will cut accidents. On the rare occasions when cars from all four directions stop at the same time, Engelhart admits there is some confusion. The car on the right has the right of way, but in such cases everyone is on the right of somebody else. Even if all

IN MEMORIAM In loving remembrance of my dear father who passed away April 29, 1941. Gone but not forgotten.

A precious one from us has gone. A voice we loved is stilled. A place is vacant in our home; Which never can be filled.

God in His wisdom has recalled. The boon His love had given. And though the body slumbers here, The soul is safe in heaven.

By his daughter, Josephine Harpster.

public service by your daily newspaper. The Gettysburg Times, in cooperation with 22 merchants and manufacturers, Carl A. Baum, manager of The Times said, in introducing Mrs. Rowe.

Using for the most part Adams county products, Mrs. Rowe demonstrated the economical preparation of new dishes, designed to tease the palates of families with jaded appetites into a new appreciation of "mother's cooking," and the use of left-overs in the preparation of many economical and tasty dishes.

"There have been many new things developed in cookery," Mrs. Rowe said, "but we are going to be concerned only with the new things that have proved workable, the things that have stood up."

Members of the staff of The Gettysburg Times assisted in the distribution of the ten baskets of groceries awarded at the conclusion of Mrs. Rowe's lecture and demonstrations.

Cans of National Park peas donated by Burgoon and Yingling and unintentionally omitted in previous stores, were included in the groceries in each basket.

Those who received these baskets were: Mrs. Raymond Day, 36 North Washington street; Mrs. Leo Redding, Gettysburg R. 3; Mrs. Charles Weikert, 69 East Middle street; Lillie Bucher Gettysburg R. 3; Mrs. Augusta Merrow, 167 East Middle street; Mrs. Lawrence Fidler, 162 East Middle street; Mrs. Merle S. Rudisill, Gettysburg R. 1; Mrs. Paul Ketterman, 114 Steinwehr avenue; Mrs. D. Edwin Benner, Gettysburg R. 1 and Mrs. Richard Finkbner, 41 Hanover street.

The food which Mrs. Rowe prepared was also distributed to guests of the school. The barbecued chicken was installed recently at the panel company, and is the first of its type in the east.

Arranges Demonstration The demonstration of the new machine was arranged through the cooperation of M. C. Jones, president of the panel company. The Root company is exclusive sales representative for the James L. Taylor Manufacturing company of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., manufacturers of the machine.

Manufacturers were welcomed at the dinner by Mr. Jones, and brief remarks were made by various officials of the Root company. Included among those from the York firm were B. T. Root, president; Mr. Diehl, vice president; J. William Stair, secretary-treasurer, and J. A. Markel, assistant treasurer. Two representatives of the Taylor company were also here, Lloyd Quick, vice president, and William Hutchings, engineer.

Mrs. Rowe will lecture at The Gettysburg Times cooking school in Littleton school auditorium in Littleton on Monday and Tuesday nights next week.

Second Session Tonight A special birthday cake, baked by Zennig's bakery, was given to Mrs. Frank Fitzer, 27 Steinwehr avenue.

The second session of the cooking school will be held tonight at the annex, and the third on Friday night. Ten additional baskets of groceries, plus the "goodies" prepared by Mrs. Rowe during her lecture, will be distributed tonight. At the closing session Friday night 20 baskets will be distributed, as well as the food prepared and a long list of major awards contributed by the merchants and manufacturers co-operating in the school.

BUILD THEATRE

Baker, Baltimore, are the owners of the new theatre and they contemplate opening early in the fall. Mrs. Hicks operates at present, the Regent theatre on West King street. After the opening of the Towne theatre, Mrs. Hicks will continue to operate the Regent theatre on Fridays and Saturdays.

Commander Kenneth L. Steick was in charge of the semi-monthly meeting of the Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954, VFW, held in the post home, West King street, Littlestown, Tuesday evening. During the meeting, a motion was approved for the organization to pay their share toward a new band stand for the town. The old stand, which was stored in the barn belonging to Mrs. Norway B. Lau, was destroyed some time ago when there was a fire in the barn. The various organizations of the town are being solicited for funds to purchase a new stand. Past Commander John H. Riley was presented with a past commander's pin by the present commander. Following the business session, the members present did some renovation work in the dining room of the home. The next meeting of the post will be held on Tuesday evening, May 11.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Breighner, Harrisburg, spent Sunday with Mr. Breighner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Breighner, Littlestown R. 2.

The monthly meeting of the Starr Bible class of St. Paul's Lutheran church will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. John Kindig, East King street.

The Ladies Aid society of St. John's Lutheran church will meet tonight at the home of Miss Evelyn Asper, West King street, at 7:30 o'clock.

TELLS WHY P.O.

service by staying on Standard Time. "There are many more things to be considered in the postal service than the average citizen realizes, especially if he does not consider the arrival of trains in nearby cities, above all the Pennsylvania railroad, which is this office's main artery and feeder of Metropolitan newspapers and the imperative mail for the Gettysburg business man; and at this time let us remind you that the rural patron must be given consideration. The thought that if the Gettysburg post office went on Daylight Saving Time the service to the patrons would be stepped-up is only a delusion. As long as this office is on Standard Time the patrons that receive their mail by city carrier will be receiving their mail four to five hours earlier than if we went on Daylight Saving Time for the simple reason the mail they receive in the morning would not be delivered until the afternoon trip.

"If the Star Route from Harrisburg arrived at this office one hour earlier it would miss the dispatch of the Metropolitan dailies, this would mean that the rural patrons would not receive their papers on day of issue, and also the town patrons would not receive their morning paper until the afternoon.

Local Mail Increases

"Unless and until the Pennsylvania Railroad changes its schedule so the trains will arrive in Harrisburg and Baltimore one hour earlier, it is impossible to give a more efficient service, which is the aim and desire of all employees of this office.

"The postal service of this office has grown tremendously in the amount of mail received, and the outgoing has increased also due mainly to the large enrollment of students at Gettysburg college. The Post Office department is handling more mail at the present time than ever known in the history of the department.

"To take care of the increase in business this office has been granted an additional carrier and also a clerk, which increases our personnel from eight to nine clerks, including the assistant postmaster, and the carriers from five to six; three substitutes are also employed.

Change Street Boxes

"The increase of business and the fact that we are unable to obtain enough street letter boxes has compelled us to change some of our street and storage boxes to the dismay of some of our patrons, which we deeply regret. Also at the present time we are considering re-routing the town due to changing the system of the carriers in the office. Heretofore the carriers worked four hours in the morning and four in the afternoon; at present they are working five in the morning and three in the afternoon. By switching to five in the morning, giving the carriers more time for setting up their mail, we have been able to deliver all mail daily. Some of our patrons may have noticed they are receiving magazines on Friday and Saturday that they received on the following Monday.

"In the near future, as soon as approved by the Department, the new residential sections that have house numbers, mail receptacles and continuous sidewalks will receive city delivery service.

"Yours for the best in service,"

"L. E. Oyer, Postmaster." Since the preparation of this article we have received a communication from the Division Superintendent, Railway Mail Service, of District 6, Harrisburg, stating that this office is receiving consideration of advancing the dispatch of the Star Route from Harrisburg to Gettysburg and if this can be arranged the Gettysburg post office will be able to go on Daylight Saving Time

U.S. High Command Thinks 2,000,000 Men For Defense Is Top Limit Advisable

POWERS ABROAD MIGHT ALARM LARGER FORCE

By ELTON C. FAY

Washington, April 29 (AP) — The high command, working with foreign policy framers, thinks two million men are enough for defense — that more might be viewed abroad as a move toward aggressive war.

The joint chiefs of staff, it was learned today, used such a diplomatic yardstick to help measure the of the recommended peacetime military establishment.

The joint chiefs' organization is composed of the military heads of the Army, Navy and Air Force, plus Adm. William D. Leahy, the chief of staff to the president. They constitute an advisory group to Secretary of Defense Forrestal.

Other Factors

The overall military-diplomatic policy is shaped by the National Security Council which includes President Truman, Secretary of State Marshall, Forrestal and the civilian defense secretaries of the armed forces. The military planning thus is designed to be geared to the diplomatic thinking of the council.

Forrestal himself disclosed cryptically that factors other than cost and manpower availability were involved in the military's recommendations.

In a New York city address last week he said that an armed force larger than the one recommended "might justifiably be viewed as preparation for war."

The joint chiefs, accordingly, made their recommendations for the fighting services within the framework of political as well as military objectives.

What They Want

Here is what they want for a peacetime defensive force (present manpower figures in parentheses):

An army of 837,000 men (540,000) in the regular establishment, 650,000 (260,000) in the National Guard. The regular army would be organized into 12 divisions, plus 50 battalions of anti-aircraft defense.

A navy of 556,000 regulars (350,000), 220,000 (166,000) organized reserves. They would man about 390 combatant ships including about 6 carriers and 32 air groups.

An air force of 502,000 men (335,000). The ultimate objective would be a 70-group force at full strength or a little over full strength.

A Marine Corps of 108,000 men (81,000), with 40,000 more in the organized reserve.

Seek Indictments In Housing Frauds

Pittsburgh, April 29 (AP)—The U. S. attorney's office said Federal Grand jury indictments will be sought Monday against "about six" contractors, real estate agents and home owners accused of shady dealings in the sale of old and new homes.

Asst. U. S. Atty. Elliott W. Finkel said indictments will be asked under the financing clauses of the National Servicemen's Readjustment act. Penalty for giving false information to a government agency is a $10,000 fine, 10 years in prison, or both, Finkel said.

The attorney said the alleged violations came to light after the Veterans administration asked ex-servicemen to report any frauds practiced upon them. Some veterans, Finkel declared, told of making "under the counter" payments of $500 to $2,000 before being allowed to buy homes.

Finkel said the indictments to be asked Monday will be only the first of a number the government will seek in connection with housing frauds.

how much is enough?

We wish we knew. In spite of our best efforts, the demand for telephone service continues to exceed the supply of materials necessary to provide it. We have already installed a record number of telephones, but still more applications for new service continue to come in. All of our efforts are aimed at "balancing the scales"—to have installations keep pace with new applications. It takes time and money, but we hope before too long to keep up with this tremendous demand.

HILLDRING TO DIRECT POLICY

Washington, April 29 (AP) — Maj. Gen. John H. Hilldring, a trusted associate of Secretary of State Marshall and an expert on military occupation, is taking over direction of American policy on Palestine.

A state department announcement that Marshall had appointed Hilldring as his special assistant, was regarded by authorities today as signifying possible developments along one or more of these lines:

1. Intensified efforts to win both Jewish and Arab support for the American-sponsored truce plan.

Hilldring was in charge of Palestine policy under Marshall for a brief period last fall and is understood to have been particularly successful in dealing with Zionist leaders.

2. Preparations for the possible dispatch of United States troops to Palestine.

The United States is already on record with an offer to share in a Palestine police force along with other countries, provided a truce is arranged. If troops are sent, many of the problems involved would be those of a military government nature, with which Hilldring is familiar.

3. A restudy of the whole American position on Palestine in an effort to discover whether there is any untried approach which might produce greater hope of a settlement.

They have that Certain Air

The polar bear and Budweiser have one thing in common . . . each grows up in the cleanest of air. Beginning in the starting cellars, where yeast is added to the brew, and on down through the fermenting, ageing and finishing cellars, ingenious filters keep the air pure. This costly precaution protects our priceless, pure-cultured yeast from micro-organisms that could mar and even ruin its all-important work. This safeguard is only one of many, many steps that makes ours the most expensive brewing process known. Every sip of Budweiser says it's worth it.

Poisoning Trees Is His Business

Pineville, La., April 29 (AP)—Poisoning trees is Fred A. Peavy's business. He is zoologist for the Southern Forest Experiment Station branch here. And he reports that much of Louisiana's potential forest land is monopolized by "pest" trees like blackjack oak and bitter pecan.

These trees were left years ago when timber was cut from the land and their spread has prevented establishment of useful pine forests, Peavy says. The "pest" trees can be eliminated at small cost by the use of amonium sulphate, his experiment shows. A cup or cups according to size of tree, are chopped at the base and the poison poured in.

SWEDES FACE HOME CRITICS

Stockholm, April 29 (AP)—To the Swedish government the traditional policy of strict neutrality in any international conflict is still good, but an increasing number of Swedes say it is obsolete. The Swedish minister of finance, Ernest Wigforss, recently had to admit in a speech on foreign policy that the unity on neutrality seems to be breaking.

Foreign Minister Oesten Unden has refused to commit his government to anything except the Marshall plan. He has been criticized for saying east and west were equally dangerous to this country.

The view, which is vigorously propounded by "Dagens Nyheter" and some other newspapers, is that Sweden's chances of escaping any new war are faint. The best course, according to these quarters, is to prepare military and political cooperation with the West in good time. Swedish defense, it is said, is based on the principle of delay till help from abroad arrives. "Why not acknowledge our friends and arrange for that help before the flood comes? After, it may be too late," the alliance enthusiasts say.

But there has been no panic here.

Although 3,314 Swedes can immigrate to the United States each year, that quota has not been filled for many years. The American embassy in Stockholm has not observed any increase in applications lately.

As for the "scare" of Russia, one Swede recalled that American journalists who visited Stockholm during the war used to make fun of the Swedes for their apprehensions in that direction.

"The Swedes have known all the time what the Americans have discovered only recently regarding Russian expansionism. Centuries of wars with the Russians have taught us something. We are not scared, just watchful," he said.

There are about 250,000 churches in the United States claiming close to half the country's population as members.

Photos On Fabrics Proving Effective

Pawtucket, R. I., April 29 (AP)—Experts used to believe photo prints on fabrics were impossible. But Leize Rose Stewart has done the impossible. Her photo process is used in a commercial laboratory she has established here to produce pictures on garments, wall decorations and other cloth.

During the war her process was used to produce camouflage for airplanes. Her prints are reported to be fast and the process is said to cost less than silk screen printing and more than roller printing.

Mrs. Stewart was a portrait painter before the depression and turned to experiment with photography when business declined.

EFFECT OF VOTE UPON DELEGATES STILL UNCERTAIN

Harrisburg, Pa., April 29 (AP)—It was still anybody's guess today as to what effect Tuesday's Presidential write-in vote will have on the Pennsylvania delegation at the Republican national convention.

Gov. James H. Duff, head of the 73-man delegation, said the balloting was without effect. But Harold E. Stassen, victor in the popularity contest, insists the Pennsylvania result "may turn out to be a key event in the nomination."

"I am confident that Pennsylvania has not as yet made up its mind (on choosing a GOP Presidential nominee) and I interpret Tuesday's write-ins to mean exactly that," Duff told a news conference yesterday.

Only Fraction Voted
Only a tiny fraction of the 2,679,972 Republican voters in Pennsylvania wrote in a Presidential preference. The governor's interpretation strengthens a belief that the Keystone state's GOP delegation will hold its powerful bloc of votes until a strategic moment at the convention.

U. S. Sen. Edward Martin, who polled 41,318 write-in votes, will receive a token first ballot vote as a favorite son. Despite an active write-in campaign in his behalf, he finished third. Ahead of him was Stassen by 33,000 and Thomas E. Dewey of New York by 28,000.

Dewey's total of 69,426 votes, the governor said, possessed "the most significance" in Tuesday's primary.

Vandenberg Sixth
The comparatively few ballots—7,944—cast for Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan brought this comment from Duff:

"I definitely attribute the fact that his vote was not larger to the fact that the people did not know he was available."

The governor did not reply to a reporter's question whether an "inference" could be drawn on Vandenberg's availability.

Vandenberg was sixth behind Stassen, Dewey, Martin, Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Sen. Robert E. Taft. He was ahead of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Henry Wallace.

Va.; Ellerslie Methodist church, Ellerslie, Pa., at which place they were entertained over Monday night in the homes of the members of the congregation. On Tuesday, they appeared at the Frostburg Teachers' college, Frostburg, Md., and the Allegheny high school, near Cumberland. At 1:15 p. m., they broadcast over station WTBO, Cumberland. Their final appearance was Tuesday evening in Grace Methodist church, Cumberland, from which they started their journey homeward.

Someone has observed that time is money. And someone else has wisely added that health is wealth. Surely sound health is no less important than correct time. ## Seek Control Of India's Laborers

New Delhi, April 29 (AP)—The Communists, the Congress Party and the Socialists are battling for control of India's organized labor. The number of union members in this predominantly agricultural country is still small. Government officials put the total at approximately 1,500,000 out of a population of 325,000,000. But with several major organizations driving for new recruits, substantial growth is indicated.

The Communists, especially strong in Southern India, made their greatest gains during the war, taking control of the big All-India Trade Union Congress. But in recent months they have felt the competition of the Indian National Trade Union Congress, which has the blessings of the Congress Party. Also assuming growing importance in the labor field is the Congress Socialist Party, a section of the Congress which wants early nationalization of industry.

PANTRY PESTS CONSUME MUCH FOOD IN YEAR

Washington, April 29 (AP) — More than $15,000,000 worth of grain foods are destroyed by pantry pests in American homes annually. The government urges housewives to war on them.

If housewives everywhere got after these bugs their united effort would save enough food to help pull many starving people through a crisis.

And saving food would save them money.

Pantry pests are the bugs that get into cereals, flour, meal, cornstarch, crackers, breakfast foods, macaroni and spaghetti. They may also be found in spices, nut meats, chocolate, cocoa, dehydrated foods, dried fruits, dry soup mixes, dog biscuits and bird seed.

Five Common Species

Five species are most commonly found in cupboard and pantry. Four of these are beetles.

There's the drugstore beetle. It gets its name from the fact that it was first noted in spices and herbs in the days when these items were sold in drug stores.

Dr. L. S. Henderson, of the Division of Insects Affecting Man and Animals, of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, says the drugstore beetle is the most pesky pest of them all.

Few people think of looking for bugs in spices, for example. But sometimes that's the way they're introduced into the pantry. Later they move into the flour and cereals.

In addition to the drugstore beetle, there's the flour beetle, the rice beetle and the saw-toothed grain beetle. Most of these are very small, almost black in color, are hard-shelled and have a cylindrical body.

Indian Meal Moth

The other common grain-consuming pantry pest is the Indian meal moth. Its larva is larger than the body of the beetle, and it spins a webbing around itself of the flour or meal in which it is living. When you dip out the flour it is stringy and fuzzy.

Sometimes you find these moths flying around the kitchen and mistake them for the moths that get into your blankets, carpets and clothing. But the meal moth is darker in color and two or three times larger than the ordinary moth. And it doesn't eat anything but grain foods.

These insects are not poisonous. Dr. Henderson also emphasizes that food is not ruined just because a few beetles have crawled into it.

He says that a few in flour, for instance, can be sifted out, or the flour sifted through a fine sieve. Heavily infested products, however, may have to be fed to pets, chickens or livestock.

The government suggests five different ways to control pantry pests:

1. Clean your pantry shelves thoroughly.
2. Spray the cupboard with five per cent DDT.
3. Inspect all packages of food for insects.
4. Sterilize products by heating at 140 degrees Fahrenheit for half an hour.
5. Store food in tight containers.

Cleaning pantry shelves and spraying them with DDT also will prove effective in helping control other pests such as ants and cockroaches. All packages of food should be removed before spraying with the DDT solution (on the interior surface of the cupboard). A deposit of DDT crystals will remain after the liquid has dried. These crystals will be effective for several months.

Insects that crawl around the inside of sprayed cupboards will be killed before they have a chance to lay eggs and start new infestations. Don't put the packages back on the shelves until the spray has dried.

The dry DDT deposit will not harm food inside packages.

Lavender Farm Is Only One In U.S.

Olympia, Wash., April 29—L. J. Wycoff believes his 12 acres of commercial lavender near here is the only such planting in the United States. Lavender oil, an important ingredient of perfume, comes mostly from southern France. But plantings including Wycoff's, have been established in several parts of the world in recent years.

Wycoff gets from 20 to 30 pounds of the oil to the acre and the price varies in different years from $5 to $20 a pound. The lavender starts to bloom in July and is cut with a modified header and then distilled.

Kissing In Public No Crime In Japan

Tokyo, April 29 (AP) — It isn't a crime to kiss in public in Japan after all.

Some time back the law-makers outlawed anything obscene, and some public officials said that included kissing al fresco.

Public kissing was a rare social pastime among Japanese until the Americans arrived.

kiss in public. It was misread, that's all.

May seem like a minor point, but one of the men from Gen. MacArthur's headquarters saw fit to call a conference with the Japanese press and explain the matter.

He told the Japanese they could go ahead and kiss in public all they want to.

Why Certainly, Mules Sit Down

Sarasota, Fla., April 29 (AP) — Can a mule sit down?

This is just one of the scores of questions asked Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey circus during the "off" season when the show is in winter quarters here.

They come in every day, in batches from all over the country. Most of them are from circus fans but some come from writers, lecturers and others seeking facts not found in books.

The one about the mule came from Mrs. Maud Crowley, of Marblehead, Mass. Of course, Mrs. Crowley's young son, David, asked her, but she didn't know and neither did any authorities she could think of, including Harvard University.

Encyclopedias made no mention of a mule's sitting abilities.

Mrs. Crowley enclosed a sketch of a dog sitting, and asked if a mule can sit like that.

Her inquiry brought a prompt reply from Roland Butler, general

CLAIMS SOCIAL SECRETARY IS IMPORTANT JOB

Washington, April 29 (AP)—Probably the most valuable asset to newcomers who want to get somewhere in this town is the social secretary who teaches them how to meet and influence the right people.

Keen, capable Mrs. Nathan Wyeth, a veteran in this delicate business, says there's a lack of these women in Washington. Now she's going to start a training course for would-be social secretaries. She says she's had more than 250 applications. She will only take on 10 at a time.

To qualify, Mrs. Wyeth says, one must naturally, first of all, "be a lady." But tact is of supreme importance. Applicants should also have a pleasant voice, good family background, good disposition, charm and good manners. Good looks and a knack for dressing well help.

Among the things which Mrs. Wyeth will teach her pupils will be the uses of protocol, filing, answering invitations and so on. Party planning and arranging is left up to the caterers.

Mrs. Wyeth, who is known to friends as "Dedette," is social secretary to the French and the Brazilian embassies. She first came to Washington as secretary to Mrs. William de Witt Mitchell, wife of the Attorney General under President Hoover.

Three Louis XVI armchairs and one low table in the Netherlands embassy have quite a history.

The three pieces belonged to the Ambassador and Mme. van Kleffens before the war. When the Nazis overran Holland they looted the van Kleffens residence.

Shortly after VE Day, Mme. van Kleffens says she was dining with British Major General Clark, chief of the SHAEF mission to the Netherlands. He was billeted at a mansion which the German commander, Seyss-Inquhart, had occupied.

"If you don't mind, when I leave I'll just take this chair with me,"

Greek Drama Planned In Ancient Setting

Syracuse, Sicily, April 29 (AP)—Three great dramas of Aeschylus are to be put on again in the ancient theatre where the "Inventor of Tragedy" himself may have watched them performed.

The plays in a new Italian version with a modern musical accompaniment will be performed May 15-23 in Syracuse's 2,500-year-old Greek Theatre, which is still in good repair and boasts acoustics so perfect that whispers on-stage are clearly audible in the last seats of the stone rotunda.

MARX FOR GERMANS

Berlin, April 29 (AP)—A Soviet publishing house is issuing for German workers a de luxe edition of Karl Marx's "Das Kapital."

Mme. van Kleffens remarked to the general, calmly pointing to the chair in which she was sitting.

It was one of the van Kleffens' Louis XVI armchairs, and the old housekeeper at Clingendael verified the fact that it had been brought there by the German commander. The other chairs and the table were discovered in local antique stores. They were recognized by Mme. van Kleffens' sisters.

DOUBLE PLANS FOR MAY DAY

London, April 29 (AP)—The Communists will have to celebrate May Day on their own this year in most capitals.

Socialists and moderate labor groups are giving the Communists the cold shoulder as never before in planning for the traditional labor celebration Saturday.

May Day was established as an International Labor holiday in 1891 at a Socialist Congress in Paris. In of Karl Marx's "Das Kapital." For the price of one-third of his weekly pay a German laborer can now buy a "new, very tasteful, and very well-bound edition" of Communism's Bible.

DEATH SEPARATES PAIR

Melbourne, April 29 (AP)—The partnership of Jack and Jill, the platypus couple at the Healesville Sanctuary near Melbourne, has ended. Jill has died and Jack has been labeled after nine years in captivity. They were the parents of the only baby platypus born in captivity—a female named Corrie. Many thousands of people admired and fed Jack and Jill and later Corrie.

Pasteurized milk is milk heated to not less than 143 degrees Fahrenheit and held at that temperature 30 minutes.

STATE MAKING TRAFFIC COUNT

Harrisburg, April 29 (AP) — The Commonwealth set out today to find out how many automobiles are using 34,000 miles of state roads.

The state highway department said it has inaugurated a state-wide traffic survey which will take about two years to complete. The data obtained will be used in laying plans for long-range highway development.

The state has been divided into 12 districts for the count and the program arranged so that survey will be finished in six of them the first year. The rest of the state will be surveyed the second year.

All improved highways are included in the study. Density counts will be made on 31,000 miles of highways in rural areas and 3,000 miles of state routes passing through cities. It is the first such state-wide study made in 10 years.

The traffic count will be made without stopping vehicles to determine origin or destination. The data will be obtained for the most part from 105 portable machines record traffic volumes hourly. Continuous counts also will be made by 30 permanently located "electric eye" recorders. These are now in operation on major traffic routes, secondary roads, farm-to-market highways and recreational roads.

Says White House Is On Reservation

Washington, April 29 (AP) — The President of the United States lives on a reservation.

In recent congressional budget hearings A. E. Demaray, associate director of the National Park Service, explained that the White House was Reservation Number One of the National Capital Parks. Appropriations for the Executive Mansion and grounds are administered by his office. (This does not include expenses of the President's executive offices.)

National Capital Parks did not have this function until the Reorganization Act of 1933, however. It was done formerly through a representative of the War Department.

Most People Are Moving To Cities

Washington, April 29 (AP) — It isn't just the young folks who are leaving the farms. Whole households are moving city-ward.

A Bureau of the Census survey made in April last year shows that 83 per cent of the house holds of the United States are now located in urban areas.

A "household" is defined as including "all the persons who occupy a house, an apartment or other group of rooms" or a room that constitutes "separate living quarters." It includes the related family members and also the unrelated persons, if any, such as lodgers, servants or hired hands who share the living quarters. A person living alone, or a group of unrelated persons sharing the same living accommodations as partners, also constitutes a "household."

Aeschylus (525-456 B. C.) born in Athens, lived the last years of his life and died at the court of Hieron, dictator of Syracuse in Sicily—then called "Greater Greece."

Does Stomach Gas and Bloat Make You Feel Miserable?

If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in freeing your stomach from this nervous distress. It works this way: Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing the flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance.

This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-eating of soda and other acidizers to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help a digest food for body strength and a rest. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped.

100s of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

GRANDMOTHER'S VISIT TOPPED THAT OF MIHAI

Washington, April 29 (AP)—The visit of beautiful Queen Marie of Romania to this country created a sensation 22 years ago. The American public was not so accustomed to visiting royalty in those days.

There's not anywhere near the to-do over the current visit of her grandson, 26-year-old Mihai—or Michael, as he is called in English. Nevertheless, the presence here to the handsome young man has stirred the interest and the imagination of the American people.

Headliner in international news because of his recent abdication as king and his whirlwind romance with Princess Anne of Bourbon-Parma, Michael is visiting the United States incognito. Any entertaining in his honor will be strictly unofficial.

Not A Ruler

This is because Michael is actually no longer a ruler, though he says his abdication was forced and that he does not consider it binding.

Michael and his mother, former Queen Helen, accompanied by a retinue of 10, expect to visit factories and industrial plants and sight-see in general. One informant said, however, that Michael and his mother will attempt to raise funds in this country to "help Romanian refugees escape communism."

Queen Marie's trip to this country in 1926 ostensibly was to dedicate a museum of fine arts built near Seattle, Wash., by Samuel Hill, a Red Cross worker in Romania during World War I.

Her visit nevertheless was credited with being a factor in bringing American investments in Romania up to more than $25,000,000 by 1930.

Carol In Portugal

Carol, the ex-husband of Queen Helen, is now living in Portugal with Elena Lupescu, whom he married in Brazil this year. It was because of Lupescu that Carol abdicated when Michael was not yet six years old.

Michael succeeded to the throne and a regency took over the government. The young King was more concerned with his toys, his pony and fairy tales.

Carol returned to the throne when Michael was nine, but 10 years later fled from the Nazis. Though Michael again ascended the throne, it was Nazi-dominated Premier Antonescu who ruled the country.

That is—until August 23, 1944, when Michael and a group of young followers overthrew the Premier in a coup d'etat and made Romania Hitler's foe.

The Soviets gave Michael the Order of Victory in 1945 for his "courageous act," and President Truman awarded him the Legion of Merit degree of Chief Commander.

A WORKING TIE

Peoria, Ill., April 29 (AP)—A man, says Paul Martens, should dress for his job. He's a clerk in the post office. His yellow tie bears these postal stamp marks: Insured, Eggs, Perishable, Special Delivery, Postage Due, C.O.D., Liquid, Fragile.

Reading Makes New Type Dutch Pottery

Reading, Pa., April 29 (AP)—A new type of Pennsylvania-Dutch pottery is emerging from this center of the art that dates to the late 18th and early 19th centuries. One of the originators is Mrs. Olive G. Zehner, ceramics artist of the Reading-Berks County Bicentennial, and a member of the Berks Art Alliance and the Pennsylvania Guild of Craftsmen.

"The new form follows the old Pennsylvania-Dutch decorative patterns, but adds modern colorations," Mrs. Zehner explained. "We do not imitate. We love the old antiques, but believe they belong in museums and in the hands of collectors. Our work is typically Pennsylvania-Dutch of 1948 instead of 1808."

Since Reading announced observance of its 200th anniversary, there has been a growing boom for Pennsylvania-Dutch pottery.

Says Farmers May Want Horses Again

Greeley, Iowa, April 29 (AP)—In Greeley, once known as the horse capital of Iowa, they admit the horse business is in a "bad way, but they say the farmers may wish some day they had some horses." William Goldsmith, proprietor of a Greeley harness shop, says, "Every farmer ought to keep two mares and raise a colt or two every year."

Farmers say it doesn't pay to raise horses, but with prices of gas, oil and steel high, Goldsmith says farmers might wish they had horses if farm prices hit the skids.

Farmers Tell Story Of European Tour

Des Moines, Iowa, April 29 (AP)—Iowa's touring farmers have now become the talking farmers. It has been estimated that members of the group of 26 farmers, who visited Europe last fall have addressed more than 200,000 persons, not counting radio listeners.

Bill Davidson of Stanwood has had engagements from New York to Oklahoma. A number of Congressional committees have heard the farmers' views on conditions in Europe.

No more than 3 to 4 cups of gravy should be made from the drippings of a 10 pound turkey if the best flavor is wanted.

MANY INSPECT OLD PAINTINGS FROM ABROAD

Washington, April 29 (AP)—Lots of folks say they just don't understand art. Some of these folks are in the throngs that flock daily to the National Art Gallery to see the famed old masters from the Berlin museums now on display. (These are pictures that belonged to the Germans before the war—not those stolen from other countries.)

The taxi drivers, government clerks, housewives, honeymooners, school children, farmers say they don't quite "get the pitch," but they like the paintings. They crowd in groups before them. They look at the pictures a long time, as if they were trying hard to understand them or not, the paintings have drawn record crowds to the National Gallery. It is estimated that before they are returned to Germany more than 300,000 persons will have seen them.

The 202 pictures in the collection were found in a salt mine at Merkers, Germany by General Patton's Third Army in 1945. The Army sent the collection to the United States for "safe-keeping until it could be returned to its rightful owners."

There was some protest that the paintings should never have been removed from Germany. The Army argued that it had simply taken the collection into protective custody when it was decided storage conditions in Germany were not satisfactory.

To Be Returned

The paintings are now about to be sent back to Germany. They were put on exhibition by the gallery several weeks ago so that Americans could have the opportunity of seeing them while they were here. The collection is estimated to be worth at least $80,000,000. It includes 15 Rembrandts, five Van Dycks, five Titians, three Raphaels. The Italian paintings are of superlative quality. Among them is Giotto's "Death of the Virgin," the most important panel by Giotto outside of Italy.

One of the most popular paintings in the collection is "The Flemish Proverbs," painted by Pieter Breughel the Elder in Antwerp during the 16th century. It illustrates in an amusing fashion about 100 homely sayings current among the peasants of Flanders at the time.

Capital and Military Police, keeping a wary eye on the paintings, say the visitors also like Rembrandt. They are interested too in the value of the paintings. One MP said "They can't imagine buying one, but they'd sure like to have one to sell."

All but two of the paintings came from the Kaiser Friedrich museum in Berlin, founded by Frederick Wil-

Frankfurt, Germany, April 29 (AP)—Which will you take: a pig or a bathtub? In Germany, city folk helm III in 1830 and one of the greatest art galleries in the world. The paintings were shipped by the Army to Le Havre, France, in specially heated cars and crossed the ocean in the air conditioned dining room of an Army transport. They were packed in boxes lined with a newly-invented paper used by the Germans as a precaution against chemical warfare. This minimized changes of temperature and humidity which might otherwise have harmed the pictures.

take pigs and farmers take bathtubs. For such deals, the farmer has become the most hated man in Germany. The city people say: "Better times will come when the carpets on the pigsty floors are returned to their owners"—the hungry industrial workers who traded them for food.

American and German officials say that not every farmer is a black marketer. Many do their best to help the needy town people. But experts say if all the pigs that vanished in 1947 had been legally year-

World's Lowest Rents In USSR

Moscow, April 29 (AP)—Rents in the Soviet Union for Soviet citizens are said to be probably the lowest in the world. The average Soviet family spends not over five per cent of its distributed, the average German's meat ration would have been upped 50 per cent. Now the average man gets only eight pounds of meat a income on rent.

A Moscow worker pays about $20 per month for his apartment, heat, water, gas, and electricity. For over two decades, rents haven't been raised. The rates are based on income of the highest paid person occupying the given space. There is a maximum above which the rent may not rise. The state owns all large buildings. A worker can own his own home and sometimes it is possible to rent a room or two in a privately owned small home. But the one really important landlord in the USSR is the state.

Luckless Thugs Find Crime Doesn't Pay

Chicago, April 29 (AP)—Robbery has run up against a resistance movement. Two thugs set out on a crime wave that went like this: They robbed two lone men, but all they got was $12. They met three others, one at a time, and each of the vigorous victims gave them a boxing lesson. A woman put them to rout by screaming.

They took $30 from a truck driver. But the driver smashed his heavy truck against their automobile and they had to leave it in the street. The robbers next tried to take a car from a woman. She foiled them by hurling away the keys in the darkness. One of the bandits was caught quickly. He had a black eye and a variety of bruises.
